

ADVANCED MANUFACTURING

Basildon is synonymous with manufacturing quality

For decades, some of the world's biggest brands have produced goods that are sold the world over.

Basildon has a number of key strengths, not least its unparalleled strategic location with easy connection to London, its airports and markets around the world.

Basildon benefits from University of Essex, Anglia Ruskin University, colleges and institutes which produce crucial degree-educated engineering, maths and science professionals.

Case New Holland (CNH) tractors have been made in Basildon for sixty years. Producing around a tenth of the world's tractor production, CNH is now working on hydrogen and methane powered tractors.

The wider Essex region boasts a critical mass of activities in Aerospace, Civil, Defence, Environmental, AgriTech and MedTech, with excellent opportunities for SMEs in the supply Chain.
